Rescue Writers Program

Sponsored by the SPCA of Solano County

Local students can practice their writing skills while helping homeless animals.

- Students' parents may sign up for an in-person visit with the animals, and a writing session at the shelter. Sessions are facilitated by a retired elementary school teacher, on 1 Wednesday per month, or by reservation (for scouts, homeschool groups, etc.)
- All writings will be displayed at the shelter and given to the forever family who adopts that animal.
